

Cabin Items/Misc.

- T-Shirt money/ $160 camp payment/ Emergency Medical Form
- Sleeping Bag
- Blanket for Night Hike - outdoor use obviously
- Extra Blanket to keep in the cabin
- Pillow
- Instrument - if you would like to bring a guitar or anything like that
- Extension Cord - you will definitely need them in the longhouses
- Flashlight
- Lawn chair with your name on it - YOU WILL NEED ONE!!!
- iPod/Phone - there is very limited service, so let your parents know you will pretty much be unreachable for the week
- Phone Charger
- Plastic trash bag for dirty clothes
- Sealed bags for food - keep food sealed or you will make friends with mice and ants. Either bring single serve pouches or lots of ziploc bags
- Cooler with ice for drinks - an ice run will be made mid week
- Money for ice - small bills please
- Cards, frisbee, board games for free time

Clothes:

- 8 to 9 T-Shirts/Tank Tops - you might get dirty, so keep that in mind
- 7 to 8 pairs of shorts - I usually wear athletic shorts during the day and again you might get dirty
- 8 pairs of underwear (at least)
- 8 pairs of socks
- a couple pairs of flip-flops - for showering
- at least one pair of closed toe shoes
- old tennis shoes for the night hike and volleyball-YOU MUST BRING THIS!!!!
- 3 to 4 pairs of sweatpants or other long pants - it can get chilly at night, and for the night hike you have to walk through the woods and sit in the grass so you need long pants
- sweatshirt - again, cold at night
- 3 long sleeve shirts
- One outfit that you are comfortable throwing away- the clothes that you wear for messy twister will be ruined, so don't break out your prada guys
- Hawaiian stuff (floral shirt, grass skirts, etc.)
- "Skittles" stuff (shorts, shirt, socks that are all one solid color)
- Age Night stuff: 9th/10th/11th graders dress up as a babies (binkies, diapers, baby bottles, etc.), Seniors dress as Senior Citizens (canes, sweater vests, etc.)
- 50's stuff (poodle skirts, high waisted pants, leather jackets, etc.)
- Date Night attire (girls: casual sun dresses, sandals guys: clip on tie, khaki shorts)
- Rain boots - last year it rained, and the hike can get really muddy, so just in case
- Rain Jacket

- 1 to 2 baseball hats
- PJs
- Sunglasses - maybe an extra pair too, things get lost in the longhouses occasionally
- Swim Suit - if you want to swim in the lake

Toiletries

- 2 bath towels
- Beach towel - for if you decide to get in the lake
- deodorant - please please please we are sharing close quarters and no one wants to smell you
- shampoo/ conditioner
- body wash
- face wash
- hair brush/ ponytails/ bobby pins
- razor
- toothbrush/ toothpaste
- sunscreen - most of our activities are outside
- chapstick
- unscented lotion - less scent = less bugs
- bug spray
- little mirror - bathrooms get crowded, so you may want your own little mirror
- Face Wipes - nice for wiping off sweat midday
- makeup for date night - if you so choose
- hair straightener or curler- for date night if you're feelin it
- Advil or Ibuprofen - you are on your own for meds, so bring what you might need
- bag of throat lozenges - no menthol. There is LOTS of singing so you might want some

Food

- case of bottled water
- fruit and/or veggies- I know what you're thinking, but you actually start to crave them by midweek
- Single Serve snacks- such as an individual bag of chips or granola bars. If you bring something large enough to share with your friends, you will be sharing it with woodland creatures :)
